WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today armed U.S. District Court with powers to enforce its cleanup orders on President James H. Hoffa and other officers of the Teamsters union.

In a unanimous decision the appellate court said the recommendations of the monitors are not self-enforcing, but that they may be enforced by the district court. Under the order, Hoffa was allowed to take office but a three-member board of monitors was set up to watch over the union's affairs and make recommendations for restoring democracy to the union.

In its opinion today, the appellate court said the recommendations of the monitors are not self-enforcing, but that they may be enforced by the district court. Under the order, Hoffa was allowed to take office but a three-member board of monitors was set up to watch over the union's affairs and make recommendations for restoring democracy to the union.

The court, after affording a hearing to the defendant, may take any action necessary within the scope of its decrees. Judge Charles F. Ryan said in an opinion concurred in by Judges Henry W. dgeron and Wilbur K. Miller.

In essence, this means that Judge Letts may take punitive action through contempt proceedings to force a cleanup in the union. The appellate judges said they realized the desirability of an early transition from court supervision to normal organizational management.

But the district court is not required to stop inside they said, until conditions in the union advance to a point where there is reasonable assurance that new elections will be in accordance with membership rights under the Continued on Page Six

Showdown Fight for German Leadership

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BONN, Germany (AP)—Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard and Konrad Adenauer today in private talks today to settle their quarrel over Adenauer's insistence on remaining chancellor.

This was reported by informed sources of their Christian Democratic party after the two men met behind closed doors for an hour and 45 minutes.

Therefore, the discussion will continue later today in a full meeting of the 271 Christian Democratic members of West Germany's parliament.

The main point of controversy unresolved was reported to be that Adenauer was supposed to have said Erhard was unable to lead West Germany at this critical time because of his attitude toward foreign affairs.

Erhard arrived Tuesday night from the United States angrily declaring he was determined to kill the "historical lie" that he was unfit to rule.

Informants said Adenauer invited him to the chancellery. The West German government's party No. 1 man drove to the chancellery for the first meeting since Adenauer decided last week not to step into the nation's presidency.

Erhard had been the favorite to take over the government. His decision to fight on his return from a visit to Washington, confronted Adenauer with the sharp challenge to his political supremacy since he took office a decade ago.

Steel Union Would Deal Individually

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Steelworkers Union is seeking to resume company-by-company contract negotiations between committees next Tuesday.

This type of negotiation was abandoned a month ago. Since then the talks have been conducted by four-man teams representing the union and the 12 largest companies in the industry. Industry leaders reserved decision on whether to go along with the union's request for resumption of company-by-company bargaining.

Some sources belied the union's maneuver was made with the hope of finding one or more companies that would break away from the industry's solid front. The companies have stood united in their demand for a one-year free on wages and other employee benefits, as a curb against inflation.

Union President David J. McDonald informed the industry negotiators Tuesday that the union wanted to resume negotiations on a company-by-company basis.

In a move in this direction, McDonald summoned the union's 435-member, rank-and-file negotiating committee to meet here Tuesday.

McDonald told newsmen that the move to resume separate negotiations was made because the union was convinced that the industry leaders participating in the top-level sessions were "doing everything in their power to foment a work stoppage."

Unless agreement on a new contract is reached before the present three-year contract expires June 30, some 500,000 union members almost certainly will strike in plants that produce 80 per cent of the nation's steel.

The union has demanded a substantial wage increase, a cut in the 40-hour work week and other benefits. The wage demand has not been specified. The current basic wage is $3.03 an hour.

More Work in U. S. Reflects Improvement

WASHINGTON (AP)—Employment rose by a million in May to a record 66,016,000 for the month. Unemployment fell by 238,000 to 3,389,000.

Announcing the figures today, Secretary of Commerce Lewis L. Strauss and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said they reflected further substantial improvement in the nation's job picture.

An unusually large pickup in factory employment accompanied a May seasonal rise in farm work. The May total of 66,016,000 employed the largest number of Americans with jobs for any month of May. It compares with an all-time peak of 67,221,000 set in July, 1957.

The new figures represent a drop of about 1 1/2 million among the unemployed in the past year. However, the idle total is about 700,000 higher than it was in May, 1957.

The ratio of unemployment to the labor force declined in May to 4.9 per cent compared with 5.3 per cent in April and around 6 per cent during last winter. This is the first time the idle ratio has dropped below 6 per cent since November, 1957.

Factory worker earnings averaged $90.32 in May—representing the first time in history the average passed the 90 mark. Earnings among durable goods workers averaged $98. Among soft goods workers it was $80.

Assures Move Doesn't Mean High Interest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Robert E. Anderson told Congress today that removal of the interest rate ceiling on government bonds would not result in increased interest rates generally.

"This is simply not so," Anderson said. He entered the denial in presenting to the House Ways and Means Committee the administration's request for an increase in the limit on the federal debt, and repeal of the present interest ceiling.

Anderson said refusal by Congress to give the Treasury more competitive elbow room in marketing its securities and managing the debt would actually have an adverse effect by raising world-wide apprehension over the value of the dollar.

"Nothing contributes so strongly to forcing interest rates upward as far of inflation," he testified. "Those investors who want to invest in fixed-dollar obligations (rather than in stocks) will demand higher interest rates to compensate for their expectation of a shrinking purchasing power of future repayment of principal and interest."

The administration sent in its first loan to back up the financing proposals.

In addition to Anderson, the assignment to testify was given to Budget Director Maurice Stans and William M. Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

It appeared in advance that the proposal to wipe out the interest rate ceiling would have tough sailing.

Democrats backed away from abandonment of the 4 1/2 per cent limit on government bond rates, first enacted in the administration of Woodrow Wilson and continued in force during two world wars.

If Congress approves the government plans to raise from 3 to 3 3/4 per cent the interest rate on both present and future savings bonds, effective June 1.

Eisenhower asked Congress to raise the debt limit to $25 billion dollars for a year, within 3 billion of the all-time top existing, but never reached, during World War II. In 1940, at war's end, the actual debt was only 269 billions.

Execution Stay Granted Mass Killer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Justice Charles Evans Whittaker of the Supreme Court today granted a stay of execution to Charles Starkweather, 20-year-old mass killer from Nebraska.

Starkweather had been scheduled to die in the Nebraska electric chair on Friday morning.

Whittaker said that counsel for Starkweather would have until June 17 to file a petition with the full Supreme Court, asking a review of his case.

If a petition is filed, the stay will remain in effect until the court acts finally on it.

Whittaker acted on a brief petition for a stay filed late Tuesday by two Washington attorneys.

Storms Lash Areas in North Dakota

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—A tornadoadic storm generating winds up to 115 miles an hour ripped through Fargo Tuesday, leaving about 75 homeless and causing property damage running into thousands of dollars.

No casualties were reported in Fargo, scene of a devastating tornado that killed 11 persons and injured many others two years ago almost to the day.

At least one person died in weather violence that swept eastern North Dakota and western Minnesota. An 18-year-old girl, Mollie Alonso of Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, was killed by lightning while she was working in a sugar beet field east of Ardoch in western North Dakota.

A twister reportedly hit the Clayville County fairgrounds in Bagley, Minn., some 100 miles east of Fargo. Ten buildings were reported destroyed or damaged. The storm disrupted telephone service, temporarily cutting off the community from outside contact.

A mass of black clouds a tornado funnel, touched down on the northeast edge of Hector Airport on Fargo's outskirts.

The greyish-white twister whirled along the ground for a half mile through an uninhabited section and then lifted.

It was followed by powerful gusts accompanied by rain and window-smashing hailstones an inch in diameter. About 75 were left homeless when some 25 trailers or homes in a lot west of Fargo were bowled over. The downpour flooded basements. Cars were marooned in water backed up from storm sewers.

Johnson was committed for observation May 5. Hospital officials said yesterday they would continue studying Johnson's case until July 5.

Sheriff William Berryman of Blytheville took Johnson into custody after the child reported the alleged attack to her mother.

Three Killed in Accident at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An automobile and a truck collided on a highway near Little Rock last night, killing three men and injuring another critically.

Dead are Felson H. McKee, 23, and Clyde Williams, 20, both of Little Rock, and Fred Band, 23, of Wrightsville. Rufus T. Rawls, 22, of Little Rock, was hospitalized with undetermined injuries and attendants said he was in critical condition. All are Negroes.

The four were riding in the automobile.

W. L. Hudson, 49, of Monticello, the truck driver, escaped injury in the collision on U.S. Highway 49, about eight miles south of Little Rock.

State Police Sgt. Kenneth McKee said the car was traveling north when the driver "believed to be Tilton McKee" apparently lost control on a curve. The automobile skidded and smashed into the truck, which was going south, McKee said. It was raining at the time.

Traffic on the highway was stalled for more than an hour as workmen pried the wreckage of the car from the truck in order to reach the Negro men.

Jurist Pledges Fair Trial in Rape Case

By HENDRI CHANDLER

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A veteran north Florida jurist pledged his court would function "without regard to race, creed or color" during the Tallahassee rape trial opening today.

Circuit Judge W. May Walker told newsmen the case of four white youths charged with raping a slender Negro girl was being treated no differently than any other.

There was an atmosphere of tension in Florida's capital city as the highly publicized case began. Walker said the case probably would be concluded by Saturday unless selection of a jury stretched out too long.

The four, if convicted without a recommendation of mercy, would get the death penalty. No white man ever has gone to the electric chair in Florida for raping a Negro.

The slow business of picking a jury was expected to take a day or more. Three women and several Negroes were in the panel of about 170 prospective jurors.

National attention has been focused on the case, partly because it took place just a week after Mack Charles Parker, 23-year-old Negro accused of raping a white Mississippi woman, was hauled from a Poplarville, Miss., jail by a group of men. His body was found in a river 20 miles away. There have been no arrests in that case.

The four youths on trial were arrested within hours after the alleged rape of the 10-year-old Tallahassee girl on May 2. They were indicted by a specially summoned grand jury and have been held in the county jail without bond.

The fact that no white man has ever been electrocuted in this state for raping a Negro led the Rev. Leon Lowry, president of the NAACP branches, to demand the elimination of what he called a "double system of justice."

All four youths pleaded innocent at their arraignment. Sheriff Bill Joyce said all had signed confessions.

The defendants are William Collinsworth, 35, a telephone lineman who is married and has two children; Patrick G. Scarborough, 20, an Air Force man; David Ervin Beagles, 18, a high school senior; and Ollie Stoutamire, 16.

They were charged with snatching the Florida A&M University girl from her escort following a school dance, and driving her to a lonely woods where they raped her repeatedly.

France Draws Away From Alliance

By GEORGE MACARTHUR

PARIS (AP)—France appears to be drawing steadily away from her chief partners in the Atlantic Alliance as President Charles De Gaulle puts on pressure to win his country an equal role with Britain and the United States.

Western diplomats are openly concerned over how far the stubborn French president will go.

De Gaulle has set a course aimed at restoring France to her lost international prestige and power. His strategy appears to be to hold shoulder various NATO projects until the United States and Britain openly recognize the "grandeur of France" which Le Gaulle proclaims with religious fervor.

De Gaulle is asking to be accepted as a bargaining equal to President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. His demand is viewed as somewhat unrealistic since France has no atomic bomb, only two under-strength divisions now under NATO and is threatened with internal disension over Algeria.

De Gaulle wants the formula on how to put together an A-bomb. He can't get it from the United States, Congress forbids that. Britain shows no inclination to give it to him.

The French president wants to work out with Eisenhower and Macmillan a global policy including the Middle East, Asia and Africa. But both the United States and Britain have misgivings about France's refusal to promise Algerian independence. The United States doesn't want its Far East policy decided in Paris. Britain is jealous of her role as senior partner to the NATO.

There has been no indication the United States or Britain will give in on any major points. Yet they don't know how to placate De Gaulle otherwise. Reprisals would only raise the ire of the stiff-backed president.

The latest development is the prospect the supreme Allied commander, Gen. Lauris Norstad will soon pull some 200 American fighter-bombers away from French bases.

Norstad says that since France won't admit U.S.-controlled atomic weapons for the planes, they must be based where they can keep their ammunition.

U. S. Spokesman Terms the Plan Unacceptable

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union has proposed to the Western powers a one-year moratorium in the Berlin crisis—provided the West agrees to begin working out a German settlement on Soviet terms.

A U.S. spokesman said the proposal—while it would put the West under a new deadline—was "totally unacceptable" and must have been introduced by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko "in order to bring about the breakdown" of the Big Four conference.

Andrew H. Berding, assistant secretary of state, making public the Soviet proposal, which was advanced at a secret session Tuesday, reported the Western reaction today at a news conference.

Berding said that "obviously there is no point in going on with the conference on the basis of these proposals."

Gromyko, after his move at the secret session at the residence of U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter Tuesday, got agreement to a formal Big Four session today. He served notice he would present the proposal there—meaning he would make it public.

Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, asked for a written statement of the plan. Gromyko refused to provide it.

Berding said the proposal "in effect puts a time limit on the year-long Berlin situation and also reintroduces the element of threat."

The Soviets originally had proposed on last Nov. 27, a six-month time limit which the West called an ultimatum.

Berding said the proposal as presented by Gromyko covered these general lines:

"The Soviet Union would accept the temporary maintenance of certain Western occupation rights in West Berlin for a period."

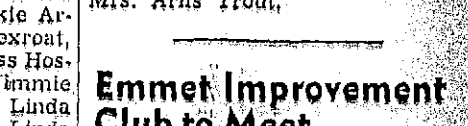

"During this period an all-German committee of the Communist German Democratic Republic and the (West) German Federal Republic (the so-called quadripartite group) should work out the problem of reunification, agree on the principles of a peace treaty and facilitate the development and broadening of contacts between the GDR and FRG."

DOROTHY DIX

Mother Brews Tempest in the Family Teapot

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband and I are parents of an only son who is now serving in the Navy. Soon after he entered service he made a trip to his home town, took a job and went to live with his parents. At present he's in the States again but moves from port to port and is on board ship much of the time. He gets home quite often, sometimes for one night, sometimes for a longer time. We feel that when he has several days' leave he and his wife should spend a night or two with us. They haven't spent a night under our roof since they were married. My son's mother-in-law is a domineering woman and I'm sure she's responsible for the situation.

—Mrs. J. N. J. I don't see it their way. Son and his wife make their home with her parents and making arrangements to spend a night at your house would involve a lot of packing and transporting, particularly if the girl must be at work the next day. Just why all the concern over spending the night? I think it would be more important for them to come to dinner and to spend the evening. Your son could, and probably does, spend time with you while his wife is working. You're getting yourself in a stew over practically nothing.

Dear Dorothy Dix: This problem is a dilly and I have us all dilly. Two years ago my sister became friendly with a sailor who had been on his own since he was 13. She had him to the house a few times and we all liked him very much. Came his discharge, his return home, and a job. At last my sister had corresponded

right along friendly letters, nothing romantic. He called on her, took her out and then it began. First he started showing up at meal times, then he brought his laundry and soon he was almost completely entrenched at our home, only sleeping and working elsewhere. He simply will not take a hint but we agreed to put up with him for the sake of charity. The latest development, however, has proved too much. He's getting overfriendly with every female member of the family, from my 12-year-old mother to my 11-year-old sister. Incidentally, he proposed to my sister but she turned him down. Mother doesn't want to be too rough on him; she still thinks "Winks" will work.

—Mrs. W. S. H. I'll never work this boy. He must be told in straight language that his welcome is worn out, that your sister has lost interest and that the only way over it is to get him out of the house. He's too rough on a boy who has no home, but he has abused yours so, before he wrecks it, lay down the unwelcome mat.

Dear Dorothy Dix: When a girl dates a boy for the first time, he is expected to stay in all evening visiting with her parents or is it show? Dolly.

—Dear Dolly: I'm afraid the thought of a whole evening under parental inspection would scare any boy from asking for a date. It's quite all right to go to a show.

—Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a divorced male who received custody of two minor children. I'm not living in my home state, so my family can't help care for the children. I have employed several good housekeepers and, since my working hours are such that the housekeeper must live in, that is my problem. It seems that after a few weeks rumors run riot about the situation and the result is that I'm left without a housekeeper because no

Orioles Defeat Indians to Tie for Loop Lead

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Orioles are tied for the American League lead. Never since Baltimore returned to the majors in 1954, have the Birds been in first place after the first few days of a season.

They did it by beating Cleveland suddenly, 7-3 Tuesday night, while Washington beat the Chicago White Sox 7-4. That left the White Sox and Orioles with 20-24 records and a 1 1/2 game lead over third-place Cleveland in one of the closest AL pennant races ever.

There's only a 3 1/2 game spread from top to bottom.

New York's defending champions finally reached .500 with a 2-1 victory over Kansas City, that hoisted the Yankees into a fourth-place tie with Detroit, beaten 5-2 at Boston. Both are only 2 1/2 games behind the leaders.

Kansas City, now sixth, trails by only three games. Seventh-place Washington is five games behind with Boston last, 5 1/2 back.

In the National League, St. Louis whittled Milwaukee's lead to two games by whipping the Braves 12-3. Second-place San Francisco beat Pittsburgh 6-3, the Chicago Cubs defeated Cincinnati 4-3. Los Angeles plunked Philadelphia back into the cellar 3-2.

The castoffs, players labeled expendable by other clubs, did the job as the Orioles handed the Indians their ninth defeat in 10 games. Gene Woodling, who even Manager Paul Richards once traded away, and Chico Carrasquel, peddled by the White Sox, Indians and A's, each belted two-run homers. And Billy Loes, once with the Dodgers and the guy Baltimore tried to dump this spring, saved it with another fine relief job. Ernie Johnson the right-hander Milwaukee didn't want, won it.

Loes, the right-hander whose trade to Washington was nixed by arm trouble, came on as the Birds' third pitcher Tuesday night with the bases loaded and none out in the seventh inning. He retired Woody Held on a pop up, then fanned George Steinbrenner and Minnie Miñoso, finishing with a flawless three-inning mop up.

Johnson (3-1), who gave up two hits and two walks, had relieved starter Billy O'Dell in the fifth. The Birds packed it away in the bottom of the fifth on a pair of walks and errors by loser Mudcat Grant (5-2) and Rocky Colavito (4-6) scored three runs.

It was the Orioles' fifth victory better and a balk.

It was the Orioles' fifth victory in their last eight games.

Rookie Bob Allison drove in three of Washington's first four runs with his 18th and 14th homers. Then the Senators won it with three in the eighth against losing reliever Turk Lown (3-2), on a single, an error, three walks, a hit batter and a balk.

The Red Sox slowed the fast-moving Tigers with five runs on six hits and an error in the first inning against Rookie Jerry Davis (3-3). Rookie Gerry Casale (4-4), whose two-run double capped the first inning, allowed only four hits, one Charlie Maxwell's two-run 11th homer in the fourth in

Cardinals Blast Out Against Milwaukee

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

An unpredictable bunch, these St. Louis Cardinals, they've lost more one-run decisions (15), and dropped more games by last-inning runs (6) than any other club in the National League. But when they break loose for their biggest run production of the season, who do they blast off against? One less than first-place Milwaukee and Warren Spahn.

They quit the cellar with a (13-3) romp against the Braves Tuesday night, running up the highest one-game run total this season against Milwaukee.

It also was their first victory in five tries against the Braves and only the 7th time in 8 decisions that they have beaten Spahn, who now is 7-7 and has been charged with a third of Milwaukee's losses.

This one trimmed the Braves' lead to two games over the San Francisco Giants, who won 6-3 at Pittsburgh. Chicago and Los Angeles remained tied for third, four games behind when the Cubs belted Cincinnati 8-4 and the Dodgers plunked Philadelphia in to the cellar.

In the American League, Baltimore tied first-place Chicago by beating Cleveland 7-3, while the White Sox lost 7-4 at Washington. Boston defeated Detroit 5-2, and New York tied the Tigers, for fourth, by beating Kansas City 9-4 in a 13-inning game.

Kon Boppe drove in four runs for the Cards with a two-run homer, his 14th, and a two-run double. Gino Cimoli batted in three with his fifth homer in a five-run sixth that made it a rout. Boyer and Bill White each had three hits in the Cards' 16-hit barrage, with White socking two doubles and a triple.

Larry Jackson (3-6) who had lost twice to the Braves, had a shutout until Hank Aaron's RBI double in the sixth hour.

Southpaw Johnny Antonelli (3-3), who has won five of his last six decisions, was the Giants' winner with a five-hitter, blanking the Bucs on three hits before Don Hoak's home run in the seventh. Dick Stuart homered for the other Pirate run in the eighth. Vern Law (2-3) was the loser.

Three homers scored six runs for the Cubs, who now have won six of their last seven. Bobby Thomson's seventh homer came with two on in the fifth against loser Joe Nuxhall (3-2) who left after putting a tie-breaking run on base in the seventh. Ernie Banks then tagged reliever Tom Acker for his 12th home run and Dale Long added his eighth. Bill Henry (4-2) won it with 2-2 in

Texas Pipeline Asks Wholesale Rate Hike
WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas Gas Transmission Co., which already had a $5,423,000 wholesale rate increase request pending before the Federal Power Commission, yesterday filed a new request for a $6,986,000 increase.

The new figure represents a 7.7 per cent increase in Texas Gas' rates.

The Owensboro, Ky's company said it made the substitute request because of an increase proposed by one of its suppliers, Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., of Shreveport, which has asked for a $10,945,000 hike.

The Texas Gas increase would affect 61 and seven other states. The company wants to put it into effect July 6.

Texas Gas already is collecting a $1,250,000 increase, subject to refund, in another rate case pending before the FPC.

Park Activities
(Editors Note: During the next few days a series of articles pertaining to activities in the Negro City Park will be run in this column. The aims and activities are listed and written by Roscoe Smith, supervisor of City Park.)

I believe that education is a process, that must take place in every individual life whether the environment is good or bad. For this reason I strive to provide activities with worthwhile objectives so as to make a worthy influence on the community development.

The following are activities and their objectives:

Directed play is individual or group play in which there are as many or as few playing in each activity as there are children who desire that activity, and in which the number of activities is dependent upon the choices of the children.

Games: Bouncing, kicking, throwing, or catching balls, jumping rope, playing horse, playing singing games, playing with dolls, scooters or other equipment which they have brought from home.

Objectives: It provides for play in situation which take into account the children's problem of adjustment to large groups.

It provides opportunities for children to gain and enjoy a feeling of security through participating in familiar and informal activities.

It provides opportunities for play under conditions comparatively free from authority where the more natural behavior recreations of children in play situations may be observed.

Doctors Asked to Help Curb Inflation

BY FRANK CAREY
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—President Eisenhower has called upon organized doctors to help write a preventive prescription against inflation in the same way they guard the nation's physical health.

And one way, he told the 108th annual meeting of the American Medical Assn. Tuesday night, is by charging reasonable fees for medical care. He made no accusation that doctors were charging unreasonable rates.

In his speech he hammered away at what he termed the urgent need for a balanced federal budget.

"For those who will take the trouble to look, there is no difficulty in seeing the relationship between fiscal responsibility and a successful, meaningful life for all in a climate of freedom," he said.

"I am confident that you doctors as community leaders in great urban centers and in the villages and farm areas of America, can do much to promote greater understanding of the importance of this vital relationship. So I believe that, as you show us how better to preserve our own health, you can do a great service to yourselves, and to all of us as you teach that the future of our republic and the free world depends upon our ability to maintain fiscal soundness in government, a robust economy, and a stable dollar."

The original litigation which led to appointment of the monitors was brought by a group of rank-and-file members who insisted the election of Hoffa as president at the 1957 convention was rigged. Hoffa once had plans to hold a new election this spring, which could have returned him to office and got rid of the monitors.

The plan for a spring convention and election was called off when Judge Letts ruled it could not be held until he and the monitors said so.

Judge Letts in February modified the original consent order in a move to bring about compliance with recommendations of the monitors.

Validity of the judge's action was the chief legal issue before the appellate court.

CHICAGO (P) — Chronic debtors follow a distinct geographical pattern, says Dr. Eugene Barnes, a psychologist, after a study of 500 debtors selected from records of Cook County Credit Bureau. Eleven per cent lived in only three square miles of Chicago, Barnes found, while 6 per cent were in a one square mile low income neighborhood. Individuals in the middle to the highest income levels were scattered throughout the higher income areas of the city.

Journey To Love

By VIRGINIA NIELSON
(C) 1959 by Virginia Nielson Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

When Leilani spotted the peak of Mauna Kea, visible briefly between the clouds, the short flight was almost over.

A brother-in-law of Bea's was waiting at the Hilo airport with a car. As he drove them to Bea's house, Kathie marveled at the lush tropical garden, even more striking than those she had seen in Honolulu.

But it had been a long and full day, and she was drooping with weariness. Dusk was falling as they turned into the garden of a low, comfortable-looking house on the hillside above the town, and Kathie had difficulty keeping her eyes open as she was led through the comfortable rooms to the one she and Leilani would share.

In the morning she awakened to a cool shuttered room and the songs of what sounded like hundreds of birds outside her window. Leilani had already risen, and a moment after Kathie opened her eyes she put her head in the door and called a cheery good morning.

"Breakfast on the Lanai," she said.

Leilani was already dressed in white shorts that showed a maximum of slim tanned legs and colorful jacket cut with an Oriental straightness of line that last night she had called a pake.

Kathie jumped eagerly out of bed. As she showered in the pretty blue bathroom, she thought wonderingly of Leilani's claim that she and her mother were "poor as church mice."

After a moment's consideration, she dressed in a playsuit, almost as brief as Leilani's shorts, leaving her hair in the long dark plaits that with her bangs made her look little-girlish.

Bea Powers was already pouring coffee at the table on the broad porch Leilani had called the lanai. Screened, it jutted out into the garden to give a view of rolling clipped lawn, a fantastic many-tunked tree and bright splashes of colorful blossoms against the green of the hedges which shut out the adjoining lawns.

Tiny delicate orchids floated in ask her for information.

At last she went down the wide hall and rapped on Mrs. Powers' door.

"Yes?" Bea's drowsy voice answered.

Kathie entered her bedroom. Bea was reclining against sofa pillows on a narrow punce, a carelessly folded silk scarf lying across her eyes.

"I'm sorry," Kathie said hesitantly. "I did want to talk to you alone, but if you would rather I didn't."

"What is it that's so important tant?"

"It's about a dead Uncle Job left me," Kathie said. "A deed to some land in Honolulu."

"Yes?" Bea's tone was still light, but the girl noticed that her body seemed to have frozen into attention. She had a sudden feeling that Bea had been waiting for this moment, that it was for this she had been asked to Hilo.

Kathie sank down on a taffeta hassock near the punce. "I thought maybe you could help me figure it out. Why did Uncle Job save the deed all those years if it is worthless? Or for that matter, why the deed at all—when there's another line to the same property, and from the same man—Phineas Redd?"

"Let's start at the beginning!" Bea said.

Speculation on Promotion of Miller

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The impending retirement of U. S. Circuit Judge John B. Sanborn of St. Paul, Minn., has renewed speculation over possibility that Judge John E. Miller of Fort Smith may be elevated to the appellate bench.

Sanborn, on the bench since 1942, is to quit as an active member of the 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals on June 30.

U. S. Sen. John L. McClellan has been seeking a circuit court post for Miller, now the U. S. district judge for the Western Arkansas District.

If Miller should be appointed to the vacancy left by Sanborn's retirement, Minnesota would be left without a circuit judge. Such a possibility is certain to arouse opposition in that state.

Arkansas, the southernmost state in the 8th Circuit, has not had a resident as circuit judge since the death of Walter G. Riddick in 1952. The latest appointee to the court was Martin C. Mathes of St. Louis, who was named in March.

Sanborn has served several times as a member of three-judge courts sitting here. He is a member of the panel which still has before it a challenge to the constitutionality of Acts 4 and 5 of 1958. Act 4 is the law under which Little Rock public high schools have been closed against integration since last September. Act 5 is a companion tuition transfer law.

One facet of the speculation over what would happen if Miller should be elevated to the circuit bench is that Judge J. Smith Henley might be shifted from the Eastern Arkansas District to the Western District.

Henley's permanent home is Harrison, which is in the Western District.

Miller, incidentally, was a resident of Searcy, in the Eastern District, where he was appointed to the Western District position

Gets Law Degree But Won't Practice

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Earl Parsons of Conway gets his law degree from the Arkansas Law School here tonight, but he, will never be a practicing attorney.

He had no intentions of becoming a lawyer when he enrolled in the night school seven years ago.

Parsons is a psychiatrist who became interested in the law because "a lot of things about law come up in my practice."

Parsons got his medical degree from the University of Arkansas in 1945.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — When Lulu Mills went visiting, she took comfort in the thought that her 8-month-old boxer was guarding her apartment. He was rated a good watchdog. She returned home to find the door to her apartment had been jammed open. She told police the only thing missing was her watchdog.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI today reported a slight drop in major crime in the nation's cities during the first three months of the year.

The FBI said that major crimes, on an "over-all" basis, dropped less than one per cent in cities of more than 25,000 population when compared with the rate of the first three months of 1958.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Republican Policy Committee has endorsed a "states rights" bill, despite the opposition of Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers.

The bill was drafted by Rep. Howard W. Smith, Virginia Democrat. It would declare that no act of Congress should supersede a state law unless Congress specifically states its intention of doing so, or unless there is a clear case of conflict between the two.
